Nansemond-Suffolk Academy to Host Open House for Harbour View Campus

SUFFOLK, Virginia (August 11, 2016) – Prospective families and community members are invited to attend the Nansemond-Suffolk Academy (NSA) Harbour View Campus Open House on Friday, August 12th, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The new Harbour View Campus is located at 6019 Harbour View Boulevard, in Suffolk. Members of the NSA Admissions team will be on hand to give tours for interested families. The event is open to the media and public. Tours are expected to last around thirty minutes and will run every thirty minutes. No RSVP is necessary.

The state-of-the-art NSA Harbour View campus will open for the 2016-2017 academic year to students in Pre-K (aged two and up) through third grade. The 22,500 SF building is equipped with the latest technology and resources and will offer the same college preparatory program as the main campus, located at 3373 Pruden Blvd. The curriculum includes an enhanced STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) focus, Spanish instruction, art, physical education and various after-school enrichment opportunities. Campus services will also include before and after-school care through the extended day program with transportation.

“We are humbled by the generous support of the many donors who are making this project possible,” said Deborah B. Russell, NSA Head of School. “We are excited to welcome all the new students to our Harbour View Campus for the upcoming school year.”

“The new Nansemond-Suffolk Academy Harbour View Campus is much more than just a new building,” pointed out Suffolk Mayor Linda T. Johnson. “The new school represents unique and enriching opportunities for future students. NSA’s expansion in Harbour View will provide a lasting impact in our neighborhoods and community.”

NSA has graduated over 3,000 students since opening in Suffolk in 1966. The Harbour View campus currently has approximately 90 students enrolled for Fall 2016.
