Knox Audiology & Hearing Care Celebrates New Office

SUFFOLK, Virginia (December 8, 2015) Knox Audiology & Hearing Care will host a Ribbon Cutting – Open House on Wednesday, December 9th, at 12:30 p.m. in celebration of final renovations on the new practice. The office, located 108 Western Avenue, was extensively renovated to update the space to a modern, state-of-the-art audiology practice with greater handicap accessibility. Mayor Linda T. Johnson will be on hand for the event which is open to the public.

Knox Audiology & Hearing Care is a professional hearing healthcare practice that provides comprehensive diagnostic hearing testing and hearing aid services utilizing the latest technology. “As Suffolk’s only locally-owned, independent audiology practice, our goal is to offer compassionate services with one-on-one attention to hearing needs and concerns,” said owner and audiologist Carrie Knox, Au.D., CCC-A.

Dr. Knox is licensed as both an Audiologist and a Hearing Aid Specialist in Virginia and holds national certification from the American Speech, Language & Hearing Association (ASHA). Dr. Knox served locally for several years as audiologist for the ENT practice of Dr. John Lyle and Dr. Eugenia Gray. Following its closure due to retirement, Knox Audiology was created in order to continue providing professional audiology and hearing aid services to the Suffolk area.

“We want Suffolk to be a place where our citizens can have a high quality of life and live their lives to the fullest,” said Suffolk Mayor Linda T. Johnson. “It is wonderful to have Carrie and Knox Audiology & Hearing Care invest in this new operation that will impact the health and well-being of our community.”

Evaluations are covered by most insurance companies, but may require a primary physician order. Office hours are Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Friday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. The office is closed on Tuesdays to provide hearing evaluations for a local ENT physician office.
